Belmont Inundated In Flash Flood

1.75-Inch Downpour Puts Lynn Creek Out

Other Southeast Towns Get Heavy Rains; Small Tornado Hits North Of Superior

Belmont was busy scraping off the mud early Saturday morning after a 1.75 inch downpour of rain in Lincoln sent unruly Lynn creek out of its banks.

The heavy precipitation, which occurred all within an hour and a quarter here, was part of extremely heavy downpours and other freakish weather that plagued eastern Nebraska Friday.

York, for instance, reported 1.06 inches of rain in a 30 minute period. Auburn received 1.62 inches over a similar period and had some minor flooding.

And what was apparently a small tornado hit about five miles north of Superior, doing little if any damage.

Nothing New

The Belmont flood was nothing new to residents of that north Lincoln area. Lynn creek periodically goes on rampages during heavy rains, but Friday's disturbance was worse than usual.

The Salt creek tributary went out of its banks first between Belmont and Dawes on Ninth street. A three-block wide swath from there to Cornhusker highway was inundated.

Two Saunders street homes were flooded. The Delmer Jones residence at 940 Saunders had about a foot and a half of water flowing through its ground floor, and the George Phillips home next door seeped water badly. Lynn creek flows between the two structures.

Lightning Hits Home

The home of Charles Wickline, 746 Adams, also narrowly missed flooding as the water washed around its edges.

On top of the flood, the fire department had to cope with a lightning-ignited roof on the home of Mrs. Nellie Mack, 844 Adams. The blaze was quickly put out, and Mrs. Mack was evacuated to the home of friends. The "lake" reached its widest at Ninth and Saunders, where it washed the walls of houses on both sides of the street. The width was estimated at about 100 yards.

Gardens Ruined

Mud covered almost everything in the neighborhood, and most gardens in the area were ruined. Roads in the vicinity were all travelable, the police department said, but were muddy and slick. The state patrol, meanwhile, re-

Condition Of Sidney Girl Said Worse

SIDNEY, Neb.—(AP)—There is gloom in the Paul Reiners household.

The condition of eight-year-old Gwendie Reiners, the "watermelon girl," has worsened.

Gwendie suffers from a bone disease considered fatal. Several weeks ago she expressed a wish for watermelons and more than 20 of them were sent in from all parts of the country by persons touched by her story.

For a while the watermelons seemed to be giving Gwendie a real "lift." She got some relief from her pain, and her appetite and vitality returned.

But for the past five days Gwendie has eaten almost nothing and has been able to drink only water. The swelling associated with her ailment has returned to her limbs and she has difficulty swallowing anything.

State To Have Ground Observer Defense

A Nebraska civil defense ground observer corps, the first of its kind in the state's history, is in the making.

Preliminary planning in setting up the system to guard against enemy air attack already is under way.

Col. John B. Logan, central air defense force supervisor from Kansas City, Friday conferred with State Civil Defense Director Edward Gillette on the matter.

Col. Logan said he couldn't disclose at this time the number or location of Nebraska observation posts.

But he did explain how the system will work.

The corps, he said, will consist entirely of voluntary personnel, under the direction of state CD headquarters. It will supplement the nation's radar network.

When an enemy plane is spotted, the information will be telephoned to a "filter center." Two such centers will be located in Nebraska, at Omaha and North Platte.

"With this information, we can scramble fighters up to intercept hostile planes," he added.

Col. Logan said the plan is copied largely after the British system which was used successfully in World War II.

He said he "couldn't over-emphasize" the importance of the corps.

"Persons who take part will be rendering a vital service to the defense of the United States," he said.

Train Held Up

DUNBAR — Mud on the Burlington tracks just west of here Friday night stranded a freight train for over four hours.

Sixty feet of right of way were covered following heavy rains. Section crews cleared it.

Mayor O. F. Mattax told The Star the downpour, recorded as half an inch, caused Wilson creek to rise. No flooding was expected.

ported no weather-caused difficulties on roads outstate.

At Auburn, the quick downpour caused minor flooding in low places, with streets temporarily flooded because storm sewers were unable to handle the deluge.

No homes were damaged, Joe Alden, Auburn editor told The Star. He attributed the flooding to a new paving project which has blocked storm sewers.

Alden also reported a few hailstones and a hard wind accompanied the storm. The Superior tornado was mystifying. Adam Traudt, weather observer there, told The Star the wind storm hit about five miles north of town, and that he understood it had flattened several small buildings at a golf course, but did little damage otherwise.

Maybe 'Too High'

Both the mayor and a member of the police force of the town said they knew of no damage, and thought the twister had been "too high" to strike the area at all. There were no reports of flooding elsewhere, and apparently there was no damage to be expected from the Lynn creek water further down Salt creek. Sanitary district No. 1 observers said there was no outstanding rise anywhere along the stream's course.

A Weeping Water source told The Star he understood there had been 2.50 inches of rain at Weeping Water creek up, but the stream was still within its banks late Friday night.

Nebraska City got a hard rain, plus some wind, but no flooding or damage was reported. Some hail accompanied two hard rains at Syracuse, former State Senator Frank Sorrell informed The Star. The rain was measured there at one inch.

Unadilla Mayor H. A. Lamb told The Star his community got three-quarters of an inch of rain, but had no flooding.

Other rainfall figures Friday afternoon from eastern Nebraska points included:

Farmington ..... 45 Weeping Water .65
Wahoo ..... 23 Tecumseh ..... 20
Ashland ..... 48 Friend ..... 35
Valparaiso ..... 43 Sutton ..... 15
David City ..... 54 Gresham ..... 20

Weather reports for Saturday indicated a sunny and warm period is on tap. The weather bureau foresaw little precipitation for the next five days in their experimental forecast.

Irate Belmont Residents Eye Lynn Bridges

Irate Belmont residents gathered in their mud-covered back yards Friday afternoon and angrily protested three city bridges they believe are the major causes of their flood woes. The trio of small, concrete bridges are located at Ninth street and Maverick Lynn creek, Nance between Ninth and Tenth and at Saunders between Ninth and Tenth.

Many citizens in that area believe that the spans act as dams to hold back the high water and send it spilling into their yards and homes.

Not High Enough
"None of those bridges are high enough," said Oscar Moss.

"That's right," commented neighbor Howard Furrow dryly.

"They're anything but what they ought to be," said Mrs. Pearl Perry, 913 1/2 Belmont, bitterly. Mrs. Elizabeth Harding, who lives at the same address, joined in the protest. A two foot water mark ringed their home.

Mrs. Florence Sheldon of 913 Belmont surveyed what once was a tomato patch and said, "It (the bridge at Nance street) is all to blame. Every time it rains hard we get it."

Not Fair Enough
Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Edwards, 911 Belmont, newcomers to the neighborhood told The Star the creek's waters "were over a foot lower on the south side of the bridge than on our side."

Mrs. H. W. Hughes, who lives near Tenth and Dawes, frowned and said, "I live in a basement; think what could happen."

The bridges are about two feet lower than the Lynn creek bank and the flumes beneath them to carry the water narrow the course of the stream sharply.

One housewife sloshed barefooted across her back yard to tell The Star reporter that, "We ought to get together to dynamite the bridges."

'Obstruction Removal Alone Will Not Suffice'

Sanitary District Asks Support For Salt Straightening Program

Floods in Lincoln's bottom land can't be stopped by removing obstructions along Salt creek until the proper channel straightening is done.

That was one of two arguments presented by the board of sanitary district No. 1 at its Friday meeting in support of its program to straighten the creek channel between Tenth and Fourteenth street.

Fail To Follow

The petition in protest asserts that the board is not following the recommendations of Alvord-Burdick and Howson, consulting engineers from Chicago. That firm made a report to the district on plans for the channel in 1929 and 1943.

According to Stoner and Roger Bergquist, another board member, the Howson report failed to make a recommendation on the proposed channel straightening because money was not available for construction of a new bridge over Fourteenth. The firm, said Stoner, did recommend channel straightening all along other parts of the creek.

Since the last Howson report was made the county has agreed to build the Fourteenth street bridge and contribute $10,000 toward the acquisition of the right-of-way for the new channel. The county, however, has notified the board that it will not contribute the $10,000 if the channel is not dug where the board first proposed it.

In an effort to prove the support of Alvord-Burdick and Howson for their program, the board has scheduled a meeting with Engineer Coall and Stoner. Both the board's and petitioner's plans will be submitted for an opinion.

"It's just like tipping a jug upside down," said board member W. M. Stoner, "you've still got to pull the cork before you can increase the flow from the jug."

The board's proposed channel project has been challenged by a

Cy Sherman's Ideals Told As Final Rites Held Here

"We have lost an outstanding citizen, whose daily life, and life-long accomplishments combine to demonstrate the reality of certain ideas about life that too often, perhaps, remain in the realm of possibility," Dr. C. Vin White said of Charles S. "Cy" Sherman at services held Friday at First Presbyterian church.

Mr. Sherman, sports editor of The Lincoln Star for many years, died Tuesday.

"His colleagues in journalism have reminded us in appropriate manner of his accomplishments during nearly 60 years as an interpreter of current events in the areas of leisure time and professional athletic programs.

"We have been influenced by his careful and courageous support of standards both collegiate and organized, making for better production and more enthusiastic participation.

"His capacity for friendship, his incentives for the young, his concern for honesty, his forthright defense of conviction and his outspoken condemnation of vacillation and ambiguity mark him out as one whose high intention was to do the job before him with every strength, and 'having done all, to stand.'"

"As a warrior with a pen, he was without a peer. We, along with many all over the nation, feel a real sense of loss at his passing, and at the same time find a blessing in the vivid memory of qualities and virtues much needed in the days ahead."

Oscar Bennett sang at the services. Burial was at Wyuka.

'Nothing To Rumors On Air Base'

No New Announcement, Sen. Wherry Tells Star

Senator Kenneth S. Wherry told The Star Friday night that "there's nothing to rumors about the imminent reactivation of the Lincoln air base unless someone knows more than I do about it."

And Senator Wherry added he thought no one else knew more about the situation than he.

In a telephone conversation with The Star, Wherry said he "could not now make any kind of announcement." He said he had not talked to the air force recently, but was "confident that things are being handled all right."

"I want to get an airbase for Lincoln, just like you people want it, and any premature announcements or speculation just hurt your chances of getting it," he said.

The senator said he was keeping Lincoln's Mayor Vic Anderson fully advised on any developments, and added that the mayor and other Lincoln persons working for reactivation are "doing a good job."

"The appropriation for the Lincoln base was not included in the last bill," the senator said. He reported that he thought the appropriation of the necessary money was "in the works somewhere."

Meantime, in a telegram to The Star Friday, Congressman Karl Stefan said he had been informed by the civil aeronautics administration that if the base were reactivated it would be available for both military and commercial use.

"The petitioners," said Stoner, "fail to listen to or recognize three basic emergencies that exist which help prompt the proposed channel straightening."

He listed those emergencies as the danger to the district's interceptor sewer which skirts the present channel on the south, the danger to the Fourteenth street bridge over Salt creek, and the flood threat to the fair ground's $75,000 dairy barn.

"If the interceptor sewer is washed out," said District Engineer Walter B. Coal, "the expense of re-construction would more than pay for this channel straightening."

Board members claimed that the present curved channel could not handle an 11 inch rain if it came regardless of any work done upstream.

Prestegaard Would 'Rotate' Agents

Nebraska's new liquor commissioner Friday gave his opinions on some aspects of the liquor setup in the state.

Said Gus Prestegaard, Lincoln, who took office Friday succeeding Marcus L. Potet:

1. It "appears" that it would be a good idea to rotate the commission's 16 liquor agents. This is not the present policy.

2. The commission, as a body, should be responsible for the state as a whole. A "split-up," between commissioners of the state for law enforcement purposes was one of the charges made in the recent liquor row.

3. A liquor law enforcement chief is necessary. Lt. E. L. Schottler of the state safety patrol is now acting chief, pending appointment of a permanent head when the commission is fully organized.

When asked if he thought there were too many liquor outlets in the state, Prestegaard said:

"There are plenty." The commission was one of the targets of a legislative committee investigation this session. Prestegaard expressed confi-

MacArthur Also Violated 'Advice' In Using Troops, Army Head Says

WASHINGTON — (INS)— Gen. J. Lawton Collins' testimony disclosed Friday that President Truman was preparing to seek a negotiated end of the Korean war at the 38th parallel when Gen. MacArthur issued his March 24 "cease fire" ultimatum to the Chinese Reds.

The chief executive, in public statements, and Defense Secretary Marshall, in senate testimony, have maintained that MacArthur's action wrecked the president's plan for ending the conflict.

Collins, army chief of staff, read to senators probing MacArthur's dismissal a summary of the proposed statement by Mr. Truman. It called for an end to the Korean war "without further fighting or bloodshed."

The statement, which was in the process of being cleared with the 13 other U.N. nations fighting in Korea, declared that the principal U.N. objective had been achieved and the "aggressors in Korea had been driven back to the general vicinity from which the unlawful attack was first launched."

The army chief also testified that MacArthur violated military policy banning use of U.S. troops near the Manchurian border and rejected "advice" that he halt his November offensive five miles south of the Yalu river.

Collins disclosed, in addition, that a "definite" New Korean war policy is in preparation and shortly will be sent to Gen. Ridgway, MacArthur's successor.

Another highlight of the general's testimony was his assertion that U.S. military leaders are "quite convinced" that Russian aims are serving as combat pilots for the Chinese communists.

President's Statement
The summary of the presidential statement, as read by Collins, said:

"The proposed statement by the president pointed out that the aggressors in Korea had been driven back to the general vicinity from which the unlawful attack was first launched, and that, therefore, the principal objective of repelling North Korean and Chinese communist aggression against the South Korean republic had been achieved.

"It asserted that further United Nations objectives, such as unification and the establishment of a free government in all of Korea could and should be accomplished without further fighting or bloodshed.

The president's statement pointed out that a settlement of the Korean situation would greatly reduce international ten-

Allies Smash Ahead All Along Warfront

Chinese Prisoners Say Many Reds Commit Suicide Rather Than Face U.N. Bombings

TOKYO—(Saturday)—(AP)—The allied offensive smashed ahead today all across the Korean peninsula as armored columns thrust deeper into North Korea in hot pursuit of retreating communists.

AP Correspondent Nate Polowetzky reported from U.S. Eighth army headquarters that some Chinese are fighting suicidal rear-guard battles in efforts to keep open a six-mile escape route near Parallel 38 on the east-central front.

Chinese prisoners themselves reported many Reds are committing suicide deliberately rather than face continued allied bombing or risk being shot by their own officers for retreating.

The heaviest fighting apparently was on the Hange-Inje road on the east central front some 25 air miles inland from the east coast. United Nations armored columns already were four miles inside Red Korea in that sector.

The allies were battling to cut off the retreat of an estimated two Chinese army corps, some 60,000 men. Fifth air force planes and allied artillery pounded the escape route incessantly. In addition to smashing across Parallel 38 in the Inje area, United Nations tank-infantry Friday crossed the old political boundary in at least two other places.

Resistance Spotty

Against spotty resistance, allied columns thrust northwest of Chunchon, 45 air miles northeast of Seoul, and northeast of Uijonbu, which is 11 miles north of the old Korean capital.

Field dispatches said those two columns withdrew at dusk Friday to the advancing main allied line. Correspondent Polowetzky reported that—aside from the suicidal rear-guard action on the east-central front—"the picture vir-

Poteet's term expired at midnight Thursday. He was commission chairman. A temporary chairman probably will be decided upon Saturday to serve until a three-man commission is officially acting on June 1.

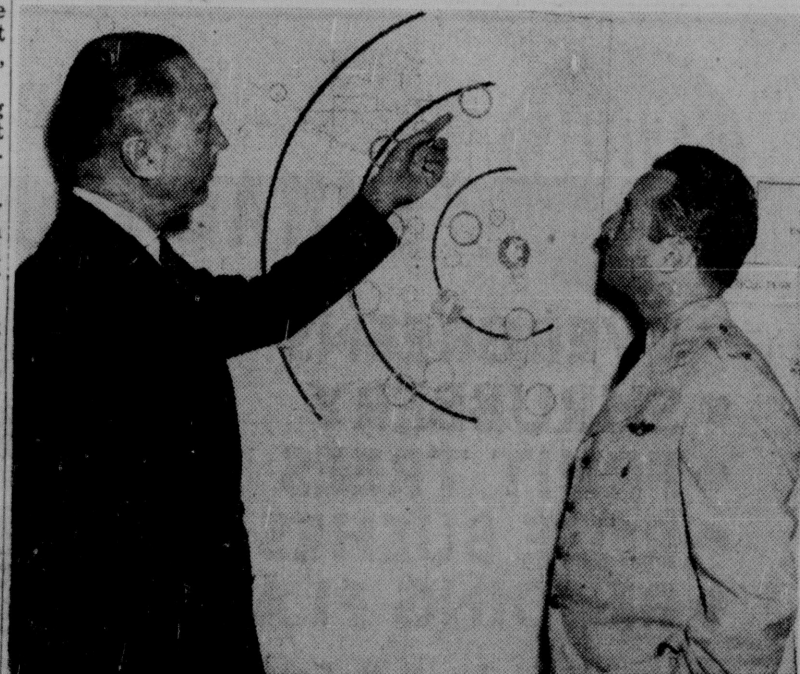

Rotation of liquor agents "seems to be the practical thing to do," Prestegaard said. However, he would not commit himself definitely, pointing out that he is new on the job and that "it will take some little time to get on to the ropes."

Demos Pick Chicago For 1952 Convention

Draft Move For Truman Shaping Up

Boyle Charges GOP Offers Only 'Slander, Smears And Slogans'

DENVER —(INS)—The democratic national committee Friday picked Chicago for its 1952 convention and heard Chairman William M. Boyle, Jr., predicted a "sweeping victory" over the republicans.

Boyle charged that the GOP has nothing to offer the country but "slander, smears and empty slogans."

President Truman had the field to himself in 1952 presidential talk as the three-day, 24-state pow-wow of democrats ended here.

Party leaders said they were deliberately deferring until fall any formal "draft Truman" movement.

Boyle concluded the meeting with a Jefferson-Jackson day warning that if republicans make foreign policy their issue next year, they will suffer a defeat "from which they may never recover."

The national committee picked Chicago as its presidential convention city by a vote of 83 to 16. The action followed a unanimous recommendation in favor of the Midwest city by the convention site committee.

Choose July 21
The convention will be held the week of July 21. This is one week after the republicans end their convention in Chicago.

The vote came after spokesmen from both Chicago and Philadelphia—the 1948 host city—presented arguments for their respective cities. The committee then made the selection of Chicago unanimous on the motion of Philadelphia.

Boyle followed up other denunciations of the republican campaign tactics by citing the Maryland elections of 1950 in which he said the GOP used "imported political conspirators to corrupt an election." The chairman said:

"No leader of the republican party has arisen to repudiate the lies, fraud, trickery and deceit which were used in the Maryland election.

"Now the republicans are using it on a national scale against Dean Acheson, Gen. Marshall, and even against the president himself."

Try to Observe Issue

He charged that the republicans cry "communism, crime, corruption and confusion" in a hope that this will "make the American people forget that today Americans are better off and live in a stronger nation than any generation of our citizens in history."

Boyle also warned that the cause of peace can be "seriously endangered if we let our foreign policy become the football of partisan politics."

He said it could be "lost if we were to heed the impatient men who, for partisan purposes, hold out the false hope of a quick and easy solution."

'Mother' Lewis Improved

"Mother" Ida Lewis, Salvation Army instructor at the penitentiary for the past 60 years, was reported to be slightly improved Friday evening. She has been confined to the home of her daughter, Mrs. R. L. Jackson, 2312 R street, with a serious illness.

List Low Bids On $3,134,542 Road Work

The apparent low bidders on projects totaling $3,134,542 were announced Friday by the state highway department. The bids were opened Thursday.

Largest single project was 6.2 miles of grading, paving and bridges between Waverly and Ashland, on which Dobson and Robinson, Lincoln, bid $568,784.

Other projects by counties included: Cedar—5.8 miles grading, paving, Randolph-Lafayette, Abel Construction company, Lincoln, $368,865.

tually across the blood-soaked peninsula was one of communist forces fleeing northward."

He said the Chinese reds were clogging escape routes with their pack animals, artillery pieces and whatever other equipment they could salvage from the steadily advancing allies.

One of the largest concentrations of reds was spotted moving north on the road to Hwachon, six miles north of Chunchon on the central front. An estimated 10,000 Chinese troops and 500 horses were counted.

An allied armored column was hot on their heels.

Lt. Gen. James A. Van Fleet, commander of the U. S. Eighth army, called the new surge of allied might "an all-out offensive," and added:

"The 38th parallel means nothing to me."

He visited a tank-infantry task force north of 38 on the east-central front.

At 10th corps headquarters, Van Fleet pinned the distinguished service cross on Lt. Gen. Edward M. Almond, corps commander, and Maj. Gen. Clark L. Ruffner, U. S. Second division commander.

Eighth Led Surge

It was the second division that broke the back of the communist offensive last week. Almond's 10th corps led the surge back into North Korea on the eastern front.

Van Fleet said the Eighth army's sudden offensive, following so closely the reds' futile drive was a "gamble" but that it appeared to be paying off.

"The Eighth army will go wherever the situation dictates in hot pursuit of the enemy," he added. "We intend to exploit every advantage in carrying out our objective to find and kill the enemy."

Red casualties were reckoned in the tens of thousands.

Warning Is Issued Against Discarding Empty Cans In Streets

Beer drinkers who like the golden beverage out of a can have been warned against disposal of the cans in public places. The Lancaster County Beer Dealers Association has issued printed statements to retail beer dealers to the effect that several states have outlawed the sale of the beer in cans because the cans are too often thrown out into public parks and streets.

Lynn Myers, city street superintendent, has said the situation "is terrible." There have been many complaints, he said, by citizens who found the cans all over their yard.

"A trash truck was sent out one day," he said, "and started at Seventeenth and Vine and went to Forty-eighth and Vine and had a load—mostly beer cans."

Iran Set To Fight For Oil

TEHRAN, Iran—(AP)—In an emotion-packed news conference punctuated by spells of weeping, Premier Mohammed Mossadegh said Friday Iran will "fight to the end" for oil nationalization.

He warned that any attempt by Britain or any other country to block his government's move to take over Iran's vast oil sources—including those held by the British-owned Anglo-Iranian Oil Co.—"will soon bring the entire free world to the brink of disaster."

Ready For Trouble

Britain announced she is sending the trouble-shooting 16th parachute brigade group of 4,000 men to Cyprus—within easy striking distance of Iran—to strengthen her Mediterranean garrison.

Top British officials in London do not conceal the connection between the dispatch of the specially trained troops and the oil crisis in Iran.

Although the British hope Iran's national leaders will negotiate a new oil deal, they have made it clear they will use all means necessary—including last-resort military measures—to protect British lives and property against violence.

(Authoritative sources in Berlin said Gregory Puhlik, Soviet ambassador to east Germany, has told communist supporters Russia would resist the entry of foreign troops in the Iranian oil crisis. A 1921 treaty gave Russia the right to send troops into Iran if foreign troops invading that country posed a threat to Soviet frontiers to the north.)

The aged, wealthy Mossadegh broke down in tears when he told of the plight of Iran's 15,000,000 hungry and ill-clad people, living amidst a treasure of oil.

Students In No Rush To Take Draft Tests

The clerks of Lincoln's two draft boards said they have had no late rush of college students wanting application blanks for the aptitude tests that may defer them to finish school.

Deadline for making application is midnight Friday. However, the local boards closed as usual at 4:30 p.m.

Mrs. Emma Bernard, clerk of board 58, said she and the clerk of board 57, Mrs. Emma Ackles, have handed out 1,500 applications since General Hershey announced the tests.

Students were given a preference of three dates to take the tests.

Students at the University of Nebraska will take the three-hour test at 1:30 p.m. in room 109 Love library auditorium.

At Nebraska Wesleyan, students will take the examinations in Huntington Hall in the C. C. White building on the campus. The tests at Wesleyan are scheduled to begin at 9 a.m., and to last no longer than 12:30 p.m. Those taking the tests are asked to report not later than 8:30 a.m.

Henry M. Cox, director of instructional research at the University of Nebraska, said he expected 500 students to take the tests there.

The two other dates for the tests are June 16 and 30. The local clerks emphasized that students will be notified on which date they are to appear.

No Sacrifices, Only Good Songs, In Irving Musical

By NANCY BENJAMIN (Star Staff Writer)

The audience was not treated to an exciting scene of human sacrifice to hungry crocodiles, but good singing by the cast and a fast moving plot made up for this, in the Irving junior high school operetta "Crocodile Island" Friday evening.

While the crocodiles (bass horns) roared off-stage, the cast was busy making merry in true musical South Sea island fashion.

Tom and Jeff, American tourists, turn out to be the heroes by defeating the villain Coco Orinoco at his own game. And of course there are two princesses, Pearl and Petal, to add romance to the musical comedy.

Quite a variety of characters are brought into the plot—including a colored mammy, an old aunt and a hypochondriac. Despite these humorous interruptions, the traditional happy ending.

The choice of "Crocodile Island" was a fine one for the pre-school singers who gave a realistic performance. Miss Ruth Haberly and Mrs. Janet Huffman, musical directors, could be proud of the results of their hard work.

James Walton Wins Regents At Teachers Commencement

James Walton was announced as winner of the Regents scholarship contest for Teachers College high school at commencement exercises held Friday night at the Student Union.

Alternates are Marion Hatzenbuehler and Byron Tullis, Jr., with honorable mention going to Patricia Latta.

Eight students were on the honor roll with Barbara Armstrong as top student and Charles Palmer in second place. Other honor roll students:

Marion Hatzenbuehler, Patricia Latta, Bill Kamnaska, James Walton, Byron Tullis, Jr.

Dr. W. H. Morton, principal of the school presided. Rev. C. B. Howells pronounced the invocation and benediction. Diplomas were awarded by Dean F. E. Henzlik of the University of Nebraska Teachers College.

Expert Says Schools Need World Thought

American universities can best contribute to international understanding by learning to think "internationally," Gardner Murphy, psychologist of the City College of New York declared Friday night.

In a speech in Love library auditorium, Murphy said the American people should be thinking about relations with the Russian and Chinese people, not only today, but 15 years from now.

Murphy urged that universities strive toward understanding of the problems of foreign countries. "If the universities don't think about these things, who will?" he asked.

If these institutions remain aloof to the desires of other peoples for social justice, it is no wonder that they "do not exert much pressure," Murphy declared.

The psychologist said students should be encouraged to criticize and to "poke holes" in what is taught them. If the students are taught to "think beyond their teaching," a type of learning may result which will aid the universities in the understanding of foreign affairs, he pointed out.

Howard Sees '50-50 Chance' On Action Against Rollback Price Order

Ag Director Back From Washington Issues Statement To House Group

State Agricultural Director Rufus Howard Friday said he thought there is a "50-50 chance" of congress acting favorably towards the livestock industry in regard to the federal government's beef price rollback order.

Howard made the comment on his return from Washington where he issued a statement to the house banking committee which is holding hearings on the order.

He said that livestock industry representatives "are making an impressive showing" before the committee in opposing the order.

Howard added: "After listening to the testimony of officials of the United States department of agriculture and Office of Price Stabilization, it is apparent that these agencies are little concerned in regard to the uncertainty and confusion their action has created in the cattle industry."

Nebraska Ranks Third Howard, who opposes the order, said that "the actual effect of the order has been to write down the cattle inventory of the country over $4,000,000,000, which amounts to confiscation of property."

In his statement to the committee, Howard pointed out that Nebraska ranks third in the nation in cattle population. If the order is carried through, "black markets will become rampant," the loss of by-products will result and confidence in the livestock industry will be destroyed, his statement said.

Nebraska 'Service' Firms Affected By New OPS Regulation

OMAHA—(AP)—Several thousand Nebraska businesses, including beauty shops, dry cleaners, laundries and repair shops, are affected by a recent OPS regulation covering all types of services, district OPS Director Edwin Moran said.

The broad scope of the order, he explained, is indicated in the definition of "service" as "any act performed or rendered, otherwise than as an employee, for a fee, charge or other consideration. The term 'service' also includes any privilege sold or granted, as in the case of amusement places," he added.

The new regulation requires proprietors of such businesses to file statements of their ceiling prices, rates or pricing methods with the district OPS office by June 16, Moran said. Ceiling prices also must be posted in the shop.

Legislators To Continue Work Through 'Vacation'

Burney Busy Lining Up Schedule

Council To Study Annual Sessions
By ARCH DONOVAN
(Star Staff Writer)

Preparations by the legislature to adjourn sine die between 3 and 4 p.m. Saturday do not include discontinuance of their duties. In fact, Chairman Dwight Burney of the Legislative council and the executive committee were busy immediately lining up more work.

"I trust that we can have a couple of months vacation from state duties before actively starting new studies," Sen. Burney explained as sub-committee assignments were made.

A new topic of study was approved Friday "to keep in step with progress and be prepared for a decision that we sooner or later are going to have to make," according to Sen. H. G. Wellensiek of Grand Island, the introducer.

A committee will study and obtain facts as to the desirability of annual sessions and present the information to the next legislature. The Grand Island senator said that practically all unicameralists in Canada meet annually and are able to complete work in six weeks.

"Many good men are denied the right to serve in this legislature because they cannot afford to take five months away from their business," Wellensiek said in urging that some method be found to shorten sessions.

Sen. Arthur Carmody, chairman of the budget committee, said that if annual budget sessions were held it would improve the present "looking into cloudy crystal balls to determine future needs." He said the present system is "democracy in action, cumbersome, inefficient and expensive," and efforts should be made to improve it.

'Emergency' Warning
Sen. Charles Tyrdik warned of the danger of those seeking legislation to consider everything "emergencies" and keep the legislature in session for months each year. He defended the large number of bills offered, contending "it is our duty to consider what the people want."

The executive committee set up one new study that had not previously been ordered by resolution of the legislature. Sen. Burney explained that it would include a complete survey of all functions of the health department.

The past session considered two bills providing for state boards of health, one dominated by laymen and the other by professional workers in the health field.

How to Make Perfect Chicken Gravy Every Time!

Words may be little things—but it's allus good to remember that folks are masters o' unspoken words, but spoken words become their masters.

I MAY BE A Grandma In years, but when it comes to cookin', I'm up to the minute. Yep, I look for the picture of Miss Nu-Maid in choosin' margarine, 'cause I prefer a modern margarine. Yessir, Nu-Maid is modern in texture . . . spreads on smooth! It's modern in taste—full o' sweet, churned-fresh flavor!

STRIKES ME that lots o' times when folks seem to have clear consciences, it turns out they just got poor memories!

TALK ABOUT CALIFORNIA settin' the style, the Golden West jes' started a new idea in margarine—with modern table style 1/4 pound prints that fit any servin' dish. And as you'd expect, they're in the package that has Miss Nu-Maid's picture on it. Like I told you, yellow Nu-Maid is a right modern margarine.

*$5 will be paid upon publication to the first contributor of an accepted saying or idea . . . $10 if accepted entry is accompanied by large picture of Miss Nu-Maid from the package. Address "Grandma" 103-N, East Pearl Street, Cincinnati 2, Ohio.

Measure pan drippings from fried chicken. For each 1/4 cup of drippings, add 1/4 cup of flour. Blend well. Add 2 cups of cold Fairmont Homogenized Milk. Now here's the secret—be sure the milk is cold, and cook it slowly over low heat. Stir until thick. Salt and pepper to taste.

Use Fairmont Milk in your cooking. See to it that every member of your family drinks several glasses every day. We never outgrow our need for milk. It's the "Grow" Food—it's the "Go" Food.

Take CHICKEN Gravy, for example. Here's how I make it so it doesn't curdle—ever. Turns out perfectly every time. And with rich, creamy FAIRMONT MILK it's always smooth and delicious.

Milk is such a healthful food I like to see it used in cooking wherever possible.

In 1890, after Mr. Bignell was made superintendent Mr. Estes came to Lincoln with him. In 1906 he was made private secretary to the superintendent and remained in that position until his retirement in August 1931.

His home in Lincoln was at 1315 E street.

May Building Costs Over $1 Million

Total construction costs in Lincoln for May to date jumped over the $1,000,000 mark Friday with the issuance by the city building inspector of a permit to the Griswold Seed company for construction of a $171,000 warehouse.

The building, to be used for the storage of grain and seed will be located on the former Burlington railroad property near Union airport. Company officials said the warehouse will eventually be expanded to include all operations.

May will be the second million dollar building month of the present calendar year. January went over the seven figure mark. The Griswold permit is the only major construction for May with new residences accounting for a large share of the money.

$500 Damages Are Awarded In Dog-Bite Case
A District court jury Friday evening returned a $500 verdict in favor of Maurice Ray Smith, 645 South Forty-Second, for injuries suffered by his daughter when she was bitten by a dog.

Smith sought $5,000 on behalf of his daughter Barbara in his suit against Mr. and Mrs. Charles K. Bowman, 1956 Jefferson avenue. The jury deliberated nine hours.

Smith, in his suit, stated the girl, with other children, crossed the Bowman back yard, where the dog was chained to the garage, last July 29. The Bowmans and Smiths then lived in the same block.

He contends the girl was severely bitten about the forehead by the dog. He further contends the dog was known to be cross and vicious.

His suit stated medical costs resulting from the injury totaled $300.

Judge John L. Polk, in one of his instructions, said the jury, to find for the plaintiff, must determine that (1) the dog was owned by the defendants, (2) the dog was vicious, (3) this fact was known to the defendants before the alleged attack and (4) the attack did occur.

State Reformatory Holds 4th Graduation Exercises

A number of state reformatory inmates moved a step closer to becoming useful members of society Thursday night as they were recognized for superior achievements in graduation from elementary and high school.

Waldo Dahlstedt, director of education at the state reformatory, said the program was the fourth of its kind held at the institution since 1947. Besides those persons recognized for outstanding work and personal progress in the last year, he said, 23 students were graduated from high school and 19 from the eighth grade.

"About 90 per cent of our people," said Dahlstedt, "participate in the educational program. All have earned some particular credits and some have earned many."

The program is unique in that it is one of a very few carried on in such institutions throughout the nation. Also, where such a program is in force there is seldom 90 per cent participation, added Dahlstedt.

"The program," he said, "is part of our obligation to the state and the institution to release our charges in the best way we can."

James S. Pittenger, secretary of state, was the graduation speaker. "Every man," he said, "has to produce to get along in the world."

'Hell Bomb' Nearer Reality Following Latest Tests

Explosions At Eniwetok Further Knowledge Sought By U.S.

BY DARREL GARWOOD
WASHINGTON (INS)—The United States has taken a giant stride toward creation of the super-destructive hydrogen "hell bomb" with a new series of atomic explosions set off at Eniwetok atoll in the Pacific.

This was disclosed Friday when the atomic energy commission announced:

1. "Experiments contributing to thermonuclear weapons research" were successfully conducted at Eniwetok in furtherance of President Truman's announcement on Jan. 31, 1950, that the United States would develop the H-bomb.

2. The mid-Pacific blasts yielded "additional military information of primary military value in the field of weapons effects."

Scientific observers viewed this as an indication that atomic artillery was tested.

3. Effects of atomic radiation on airplanes and surface structures were observed at Eniwetok and the data obtained will figure importantly in the nation's military and civil defense programs.

The commission's announcement on atomic weapons recalled the statement made Wednesday by Representative Brooks (D-La.), who flatly declared that the United States has developed atomic artillery shells and urged their use in the Korean war.

Major Purpose Defined

The AEC said the "major purpose" of the Eniwetok tests was "research on nuclear detonations" in furtherance of the president's H-bomb announcement of 16 months ago.

Though the commission, for security reasons, did not disclose the number of atomic explosions in the latest tests, there had been 13 United States A-blasts at the conclusion of the Nevada desert experiments early this year.

History's only other known atomic explosion was the Russian blast announced by Mr. Truman in September, 1949.

The Eniwetok tests, believed to have been the most extensive ever held, were carried out by joint Task Force 3, under the command of Lt. Gen. Elwood R. Quesada.

Scientists in Washington interpreted the terse AEC announcement as meaning that a small quantity of hydrogen mixture was exploded by an atomic bomb.

The most vital questions such an experiment would answer are: How much tritium, or triple-weight hydrogen, is necessary to make an H-bomb mixture explode? What temperature is required in an atomic blast to set off the hydrogen?

The temperature has been estimated as high as 100 million degrees centigrade.

Nuclear experts pointed out that in the A-bomb, atoms are split, but that in the H-bomb, hydrogen atoms are "fused" into helium atoms, in a process like that which creates the heat of the sun.

Estimates have indicated that the H-bomb would require at least two pounds of tritium, the equivalent of seven or eight A-bombs, plus another atomic bomb as a "trigger."

Money Request Likely

One immediate effect of the Eniwetok tests is expected to be a request to congress for more money to carry on the hydrogen bomb program.

Members of the joint congressional atomic energy committee predicted that Quesada and his top deputy, Dr. Alvin C. Graves, of the Los Alamos scientific laboratory, will testify at a closed session next month.

The AEC said that Quesada and Graves "will return to Washington in a few weeks to report to the department of defense and the AEC."

Meanwhile, an indication that the AEC announcement "the commission will continue to use the Eniwetok proving ground, and the area will remain closed to unauthorized persons."

Speaking to the members of the Lincoln Weavers Guild Friday afternoon was Miss Berta Frey of New York City, authoress, lecturer and authority on the craft of handweaving. Miss Frey, who is en route to Seattle, Wash., where she will present a lecture course on weaving, arrived in Lincoln Friday noon from Des Moines, Iowa, where she has been a guest speaker at the art center. Following the Friday afternoon meeting at the Y.W.C.A., the members of the Guild entertained at an informal tea honoring Miss Frey. Serving as hostesses for the affair were Mrs. E. F. Bechtold and Mrs. B. A. Isaman.

On Saturday afternoon, the members of the Lincoln Weavers Guild will go to Crete to be the guests of Mrs. Thomas Aron, a member of the Lincoln guild, for the regular monthly meeting of the group.

Marriage Announced

Announcement has been made of the marriage of Mrs. Ina N. Ozenbaugh, daughter of Mrs. Dora Anderson of Lincoln, to Ferdinand H. Duve, formerly of Lincoln, son of Mrs. Frances Duve of Los Angeles, Cal., which was solemnized at 4 o'clock, Saturday afternoon, April 28. White gladioli and pink snapdragons appointed the altar of the Elm Park Methodist church for the double ring ceremony, the lines of which were read by the Rev. Carl G. Bader.

Preceding the service, Mrs. Guy Vehrs sang, "I Love You Truly", and "Through The Years", accompanied by Jack Cole, organist, who also played the wedding music.

The matron of honor and her sister's only attendant was Mrs. E. S. Morrissey of Lincoln, who wore a gabardine suit in the rose beige shade, with orchid-toned accessories and a corsage of feathered carnations in matching shade.

Carl E. Anderson of Lincoln, brother of the bride, served Mr. Duve as best man, and during the guests were Richard Ozenbaugh and Jack Richards.

Given in marriage by her brother-in-law, E. S. Morrissey, the bride wore a white knitted afternoon frock designed with short sleeves and a high, bateau neckline. Her small, veiled hat and accessories were in pink and she completed her costume with a corsage of pink roses.

A reception for the one hundred wedding guests was held in the parlors of the church, and was followed by a wedding dinner for the members of the family and a small group of friends at Cotner Terrace. ## Double-Ring Ceremony

The altar of Frieden's Lutheran church was backed with greenery and flanked with basket arrangements of sweet peas and gladioli and lighted tapers in standing candelabra for the marriage of Miss Beverly Jean Staley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Staley, and Leonard W. Schneider, son of Mr. and Mrs. Adam Schneider, on Saturday, May 12, at 6 o'clock.

The lines of the double-ring ceremony were read by Dr. Herman Goede in the presence of two hundred ten guests. Miss Helen Moessner played organ preludes preceding the service and accompanied Fred Mayer, who sang "Because," "With This Ring" and "The Lord's Prayer."

Larry Dean Durham, cousin of the bride, lighted the candles, and Ricky Lutz, also a cousin of the bride, carried the rings.

Alvin Schneider served his brother as best man. The guests were seated by Harry Schneider and Richard Schneider, also brothers of the bridegroom, and Glenn Kraft, Dan Burbach and Emanuel Miller.

The matron of honor, Mrs. Harry Schneider, and the maid of honor, Miss June Staley, the bride's cousin, wore alike gowns of jonquil-yellow taffeta. The deep v-necklines were completed with standing collars, and the cap sleeves of the fitted bodices were accented with short net mitts. The fully-gathered, floor-skimming skirts were accented with padding and small bustles. Mrs. Schneider and Miss Staley carried colonial bouquets of white gladioli, centered with orchid carnations, and wore head bandeaus of frock-toned taffeta.

The bridesmaids, Miss Edna Schneider and Miss Dorothy Schneider, sisters of the bridegroom, and Miss Jean McGee and Miss Jean Schwabauer, wore frocks styled like those of the honor attendants, in orchid and mint green, and carried bouquets centered with yellow carnations. Mollann Gerlach, the flower girl, wore a dress of yellow marquisette.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, chose a gown of white slipper satin. The snug bodice was fashioned with a high neckline, finished with a collar of silk illusion encrusted with seed pearls and a deep yoke of the pearl-outlined illusion. The long sleeves tapered to bridal points at the wrist, and minute buttons closed the front of the gown. The long, full skirt was completed with a cathedral train. A head-hugging bonnet of satin, ornamented with clusters of seed pearls, held the veil of silk illusion.

A reception was held at Well-fare hall for three hundred fifty guests immediately following the ceremony.

For traveling, Mrs. Schneider chose a suit of light blue with navy-blue accessories. Following a wedding trip through the southern states Mr. and Mrs. Schneider will live in Lincoln until June 24, when Mr. Schneider will report for duty with the U. S. Navy in French Morocco.

Wedding Plans And Courtesies Fill Days Of Busy Brides-To-Be

June, as everyone knows, is arriving soon with a complete stock of wedding gowns and bridal veils. But before June and her froth makes an appearance there are some May wedding dates—Miss Margaret Thomsen, whose marriage to Ralph Jerome Mapes is an event of Wednesday, May 30, and Miss Lois Marie Danielson who has chosen the same wedding date for her marriage to Harvey Schulenberg.

Today Miss Danielson makes announcement of the bridal attendants—For her matron of honor she has chosen Mrs. Donald Anderson of Norfolk, and her bridesmaids will be Miss Irma Nelson of Mitchell, and Miss Rosalee Olsen of Minden. The candles will be lighted by Miss Peg Fleming of Wisner, and Miss Jerrie Unland, while Diane Benne of Scribner will be the flower girl.

Donald Anderson of Norfolk will serve Mr. Schulenberg as best man, and the ushers will be Ivan Schulenberg, John Tharp, Marvin Moeller and Roland Moeller, all of Scribner.

Miss Danielson's calendar contains two more pre-nuptial courtesies—the tea, between the hours of 3 o'clock and 5 o'clock on Sunday when her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar A. Danielson, honor their daughter and her fiancé—and the pre-nuptial on Tuesday evening, for members of the bridal party and the families, at Colonial Cup.

Arriving today to attend the Sunday tea, the pre-nuptial dinner and the wedding, will be the bride's grandmother, Mrs. Victor Hansen of Bremerton, Wash., and Mr. Hansen.

One of the Friday, June 1, brides is Miss Janet Harrington who, on that day will wed Robert Knight.

In pre-nuptial courtesy to Miss Harrington, Miss Millie Forst will be a luncheon hostess today when she entertains fourteen guests at luncheon at Hotel Cornhusker. Following luncheon the afternoon will be spent informally, and Miss Harrington will be presented with a hostess gift.

On Tuesday evening, Miss Harrington and her fiancé will be honored when the bride-elect's parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. P. Harrington reside at dinner at the University club. Places will be arranged for ten, including only the members of the bridal party.

Now we come to Friday, June 1—and the wedding of Miss Marjorie Stapleton and Richard Olney which will take place at 8 o'clock in the evening at the First Presbyterian church in Hickman.

The bride's attendants will include Mrs. Charles Tremaine of Beatrice, the matron of honor; Mrs. William Riley, Mrs. Dudley Olney of Millard, and Miss Marilyn Beyer of Omaha, the bridesmaids. Miss Patricia Black and Mrs. Irvin Bahde, both of Lincoln, will light the candles.

For his best man Mr. Olney will have his brother, Dr. Dudley Olney, and seating the guests will be Harry Stalker of Grand Island; Jack Stapleton, Lincoln; Donn Tee, Omaha, and Clayton Hughes of Topeka, Kas.

The pre-nuptial courtesies for Miss Stapleton continue almost up to the day of her wedding, and the past week-end has been an especially busy one for the soon-to-be bride.

Thursday evening, for instance, Miss Stapleton was the incentive for the informal party and miscellaneous shower for which Mrs. Florence Ryman and Mrs. Daisy Bennett were hostesses at the home of Mrs. Ryman. Twenty-four guests were invited.

Friday evening Mrs. Herbert Evers, Miss Sena Edmund and Mrs. W. R. Judah complimented Miss Stapleton when they entertained forty-five guests at a one-night shower.

Next week's courtesies for Miss Stapleton begin on Monday when Mrs. Frederick Webster will be hostess at a morning coffee at her home.

On Tuesday Miss Stapleton will be the honoree at a luncheon for which Mrs. L. F. Seaton, Mrs. Hermance Soldani and Mrs. Frances Wilson will be hostesses at the home of Mrs. Seaton. Twenty guests have been invited for the luncheon, an informal afternoon and a one-night shower for the bride-elect.

On Wednesday evening Dr. and Mrs. H. B. Stapleton will preside at dinner at the University club in pre-nuptial courtesy to their daughter and Mr. Olney. Places will be arranged for twenty-eight guests, including the members of the families, and the bridal party.

Another of the early June brides is Miss Marijo Housel who has chosen Sunday, June 10, for her marriage to Jim Austin.

Miss Housel also is announcing the members of the bridal party today, and the attendants will include Mrs. Edwin Bristol, who is to be the matron of honor; and the bridesmaids Miss Loran Austin and Miss Charlesa Hotham. Miss Judy Lutgen and Miss Joyce Lutgen will light the candles, while Sondra Lutgen and Leslie Watson, will be the flower girls.

Dave Austin will serve his brother as best man, and the ushers will include Stan Osborn and Clark Coe.

On Sunday Miss Housel will share honors with Miss Jeanette Ogle, whose marriage to Robert Kleppinger will be an event of June 9, at a tea at the home of Mrs. Dan Meyers. The hostesses for the 3 o'clock-to-5 o'clock affair will be the feminine members of a dinner club to which the parents of both fiancés belong.

There have been numerous courtesies for Miss Housel, including a kitchen shower for which Mrs. Willis Kroger (Janet Carr), and Miss Joanne Nutz were hostesses several days ago, and to which ten guests were invited. On Wednesday, May 16, Miss Housel was the honoree when Mrs. Edwin Bristol and Mrs. Earl Kraft entertained at a miscellaneous shower at the home of Mrs. Bristol. Sixteen guests were invited.

As we said before—Miss Jeanette Ogle and Robert Kleppinger have chosen June 9 as their wedding day. Among the pre-nuptial courtesies that have been given for Miss Kleppinger is a kitchen shower for which Mrs. Art Butherus and Mrs. Wayne Sohl were hostess, and the mother-daughter party for which Mrs. A. E. Omav and her daughter, Mrs. Keith Young were hostesses. Twelve guests were invited—the six daughters all former members of the same Camp Fire group.

Also on the June brides list is another popular bride-to-be, Miss Genevieve Taylor whose fiancé is Wendell Thacker.

We have kept up with Miss Taylor's many parties rather well, but the week-end and next week is something else again.

Friday evening Miss Taylor was the honoree at an informal party and kitchen shower for which Mrs. Gordon Ayers was hostess at her home, and to which she invited twenty guests.

On Saturday evening Dr. and Mrs. C. F. McAdams, and Dr. and Mrs. Duane Peetz of Omaha, will be dinner host and hostesses at the home of Dr. and Mrs. McAdams, complimenting the soon-to-be bride and Mr. Thacker.

Next week's series of courtesies for Miss Taylor begins on Tuesday afternoon when Mrs. Clair Weatherhogg will be hostess to sixteen guests at an informal party and miscellaneous shower for the bride-elect.

Saturday—Quite A Day

COUNT THE DAY LOST when someplace along the way we aren't catching up with the day before in the matter of news—All set up in type were the remainder of the weeks courtesies for Miss Mary Sue Holland and her fiancé, Donald Bloom—Our story included Mrs. W. H. Carson's party on Friday, at the Lincoln Country club when Miss Holland, when fifteen guests were invited for luncheon and an informal afternoon. Miss Holland, whose marriage to Mr. Bloom will be an event of Saturday, June 2, was presented with a one-night shower.

We also had—in type—the story of Mrs. Philip Aitken's luncheon on Saturday, honoring Miss Holland—and the barbecue on Sunday evening for which Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Faulkner and Mr. and Mrs. George B. Cook will be hosts and hostesses at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Faulkner, when they honor Miss Holland and Mr. Bloom.

ANOTHER STORY WE had planned for Friday ayem, was about the party for two brides-to-be and a bride today—a 12 o'clock brunch for which Mrs. Clarence Hyland, Mrs. Harold Hanson and Mrs. J. F. Scott will be hostesses at the home of Mrs. Hanson. Sixteen guests have been invited to honor Miss Barbara Yeager, who is to marry Wayne Eisenhart on June 9, Miss Halcyon Coble, who has chosen June 6 for her marriage to John Kasmarek, and Mrs. James Van Burg, the former Patsy Gaddis.

OTHER SATURDAY NEWS which will be of particular interest to Lincoln people is the wedding of Miss Jean Dickinson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Dickinson of Omaha, and John H. Ames, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest C. Ames of Lincoln.

The ceremony will be solemnized quietly this afternoon at the home of the bride's parents, with Dr. Harold T.

Janes, minister of the First Central Congregational church, reading the service in the presence of only the immediate members of the families.

For the ceremony the bride has chosen an afternoon frock of hyacinth blue silk. Her sister, Mrs. Thomas Keogh of Washington, D. C., frocked in embroidered pink linen, will be her attendant.

Frank E. Roehl of Lincoln will serve his brother-in-law as best man.

After a month's trip to Jamaica and the British West Indies, Mr. Ames and his bride will return to Lincoln to reside.

ONE OF THE FRIDAY events was the morning coffee for which Mrs. Arthur L. Smith was hostess when she entertained eighteen guests in courtesy to her sister, Mrs. Richard Meyer Corry of Yacolt, Wash., formerly of Lincoln. Last week Mrs. Smith went to join her sister at Clay Center, Kans., where Mrs. Corry was visiting her son, John McKee. From Clay Center Mrs. Smith and Mrs. Corry went to Springfield, Mo., where they visited briefly with their brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Yoder. They returned to Lincoln on Tuesday.

FOUND ANOTHER TEA for other guests—On Thursday afternoon Mrs. Arch Donovan and Mrs. Edwin C. Fisher were hostesses at the home of Mrs. Fisher when they honored Miss Edith A. Brown, and her sister, Miss Mary Ellen Brown, both of Milwaukee, Ore., and both formerly of Lincoln. The guest list included members of the Lincoln League of Women Voters who were active when Miss Edith Brown was a member of the league's board.

PICKED UP SOME NEWS from out California way—Learned that Mr. and Mrs. H. Mark Young of Los Angeles (Ruth Weaver), have some twin sons, James Mark and John Hart, who arrived on Saturday, May 5. Mrs. Young is, as you probably remember, the daughter of Mrs. A. J. Weaver of Falls City, and is a Pi Beta Phi at the University of Nebraska.

SOMEONE TOLD US that Miss Kathleen Nicholson of Lincoln, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. R. V. Nicholson of Red Cloud, leaves June 20 for Radcliffe college, Cambridge, Mass., where she will take a six weeks course in publishing procedures. Miss Nicholson was one of forty young women in the country to be chosen for this course.

FRIDAY NIGHT WAS an especially large evening for a group of feminine "teen-agers." First there was the operetta "Crocodile Island," at Irving junior high school. That was important, of course, but the big event was the slumber party for which Miss Carolyn Carter was hostess at her home—Thirty young guests were invited for the overnight event—and breakfast this morning.

HEARD THAT Mrs. Virgil Falloon and her daughter, Mary Noel, were expected home Friday after a visit with Mr. Falloon's parents Judge and Mrs. Virgil Falloon in Falls City.

NOW BACK TO bridal courtesies for a moment—Today, of course, is the day of the luncheon for which Miss Kathryn Swanson and Miss Joan Carveth are hostesses at the Lincoln Country club, complimenting Miss Miriam Hicks, whose marriage to Charles Stewart, Jr., will be an event of Sunday, June 3.

AND ON SUNDAY Bride-to-be Miss Hicks will be a brunch hostess at the Lincoln Country club when she honors Miss Halcyon Coble, who is to marry John Kasmarek on June 6—Miss Nancy Noble, who has a June date for her marriage to Don Etmund, and Mrs. James Van Burg, the former Patsy Gaddis. Fourteen guests have been invited.

THIS IS A STAR PHOTO Mrs. John Gray (left) and Mrs. Scott Hunter, both of Wichita Falls, Tex., lingered a moment or two before going to a luncheon on Friday to pose for The Star's photographer.

Mrs. Gray and Mrs. Hunter, with their husbands, arrived Thursday evening to spend the week-end as the house guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. Howard Linch.

THE FLOWER FAIR

The stem entries—iris, bearded, or otherwise; the peonies—double or semi-double, and the roses, the hybrids, the shrub roses, or the climbing variety, are important in every flower show. Without them there would be little excuse for a show, and yet everyone doesn't have a green thumb, and everyone isn't an avid gardener, but gardeners or no, all flower show visitors are fascinated with the special arrangements.

This year the theme for the table-settings group is "How Grandma Did It," and "I'm Tired of Grandma." This, of course, is just double talk for antique and modern settings.

Mrs. James E. Lawrence, chairman of the "Table With Floral Arrangements" committee, tells us that her section is all planned. Mrs. Lawrence has the modern and the antique interest well divided, with one table showing how the antique may be blended with the modern effectively.

Arranging the "How Grandma Did It" tables will be Mrs. Edward H. Dierks, Miss Nim Louise Guile and Miss Stanley (Cissy) Walker. The modern arrangements will be done by Mrs. J. Taylor Greer, Mrs. James Swanson, Mrs. J. Wallace de Brown who is combining the old with the modern in her setting, and Mrs. Stanley Sands and Mrs. Robert Simon who will combine their talents.

Eight A's On Injury List; MacFaden Out For 6 Weeks

Pitchers Hoyle, Busa, Gohl Out; Hamilton, Kirk, Boehm Slowed

By Norris Anderson
(Sports Editor, The Star)

Manager Frank Skaff of the Lincoln Athletics is moaning low and no fooling.

As Skipper Skaff and his hired hands wind up a western trip with the Denver finale Saturday night before returning to Lincoln Sunday for a three-game series with Pueblo.

No less than eight out of the roster of 19 are injured, either beyond playing capacity or enough to slow them down.

Pitcher Jim MacFaden, the ace reliever of 1950, is already in Lincoln. He will be required to wear his injured pitching arm in a cast for the next six weeks.

"We had counted on Jim for our best relief work this year," moaned Skaff. "This is a heavy blow."

Another hurler, Tex Hoyle, who Skaff had counted on to win at least 15 games, faces the same ordeal as MacFaden. He will go under observation when the A's return here.

As if this isn't enough, two others of Skaff's of nine hurlers have arms so sore they are unable to throw at all. They are Al Busa and Vince Gohl, who have been effective all year.

"Semi-Cripples"

Other casualties, although they are still playing at half speed, are Outfielders Eddie Boehm and Tom Kirk, Third Baseman Billy Johnson and First Baseman Tom Hamilton.

Johnson was spiked, leaving a nasty wound on his leg.

Hamilton's injured shoulder is still hampering his throwing and hitting.

Kirk has an infection on his face.

Boehm's throwing arm has been stiff and below par.

"There is one consolation," said Skaff. "We can't possibly be in worse shape. There has to be some silver lining in this cloud somewhere."

Old friends like Sports Editor Clyde McBride of the Kansas City Star followed this champion of purity in collegiate athletics on his final ride.

All-America Tom Novak, one of his favorite Cornhuskers, was a pallbearer along with three high school mentors, Bill Pfeiff, Bernard Galloway and Ralph Beecher.

You saw one of the little children for whom he always kept his pockets loaded with gum.

Even the birds and dogs whom Uncle Cy loved so well seemed plentiful outside the church.

This was a picture of democracy in action, the big man seated next to a fellow in overalls, joining in prayer for a man who had meant so much to all.

Uncle Cy would have liked all this.

CHAMP IS CANVAS BOUND—Ike Williams (telling) of Trenton, N. J., world's ex-lightweight champion, is about to hit the canvas for second time in the round after being hit by Jimmy Carter of the Bronx, N. Y., in fifth round of their scheduled 15-round title bout at Madison Square Garden in New York Friday night. The referee is Pete Scalzo. (AP Wirephoto.)

Big Names, Common Folk Pay Cy Final Homage

BY NORRIS ANDERSON

HARLES S. "Cy" Sherman, father of the Cornhuskers, took his last ride Friday.

The grand old champion, who died Tuesday after a long illness, was laid to rest at Wyuka cemetery after a ceremony at the First Presbyterian church.

Uncle Cy would have liked this last ride.

There were people from every walk of life there to mourn him. There were the elite of the athletic world and the common man.

Strikes By Stras

By DON STRASHEIM

UNIVERSITY of Nebraska baseball players voted Bill Fitzgerald the "Most Valuable Player" in a recent team poll. Bill is the 22-year-old senior from Omaha that roamed around right field for the Huskers this year.

"Fitz" was the best clutch hitter on Coach Tony Sharpe's squad. He finished the season with a respectable .349 batting average that produced one home run and knocked in 12 other runners.

An example of the confidence Bill has in himself is illustrated by an actual game situation.

In a game with Colorado university at Boulder during the regular season the Cornhuskers were one run behind at the end of the eighth inning.

A Nebraska rally loaded the bases with two men out in the final frame. The next man up is Fitzgerald. As he started for the plate Coach Sharpe stopped him and said, "Bill, you know you are the best clutch hitter on the team don't you?"

The answer by the six-foot senior was a simple, "Yes!" There was no change of expression as he answered very seriously. "Okay," said Sharpe, "go up there and hit over the fence," as he pointed to the right field barrier.

Again Fitz said with great confidence, "I will, coach." He came to the plate and with a powerful blow sent the ball to the right field fence missing a home run by inches as it bounced off the wall. When the dust cleared Bill was standing on third base with a triple that knocked in three runs.

Perhaps this is one of the factors that influenced his mates to vote him the "Most Valuable Player" on the University of Nebraska baseball team.

NOW that school is over for the year, except for exams, many of the Husker ball players are playing for teams in the Pioneer Nite League, Cornhusker League, Nebraska Independent League or other leagues in Nebraska and neighboring states.

All-American football player Bobby Reynolds is going to wear out the base paths for Storm Lake, Iowa. Bob Diers is planning on a good season with Bancroft, Iowa, and Ray Mladovich may play for Pierre, South Dakota. Freshman Bobby Decker will do his slugging for Carroll, Iowa.

North Platte will have three ex-Huskers on their roster in Fritz Hegwood, Buzz Powley and Bill Denker. Another alum, Anglio Ossino, will pitch for West Point.

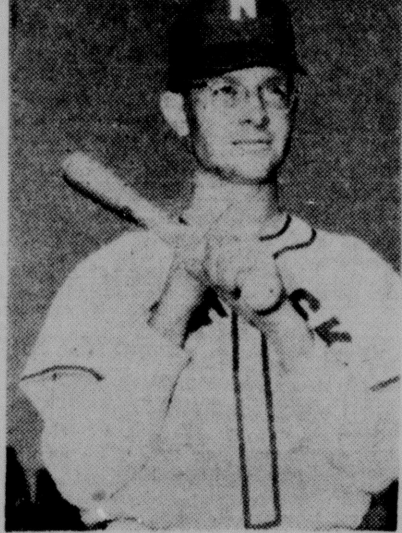

BILL "Wild Man" Jensen and Johnny Rego will display their fielding ability to the McCook fans.

Don Clark, Husker football star, will steal some more bases for Kearney. The "Spider" has already chalked up three.

Del Kopf will pitch for Lexington and George Nutt may do the same for Humboldt. The Husker pitching star for this year, Dick McCormick, will hurl for Wahoo with ex-Husker Tom Novak as his battery mate.

Freshman Ray Novak is hurling for Columbus. In two trips to the plate last week before being rained out, Raymond belted the ball for a triple and a home run.

Fitzgerald and catcher Bob Lohrborg have made no definite plans for the summer as yet.

Diers Leads Nu Hitters

... In Five Ways

West Point's Bob Diers led University of Nebraska hitters in five departments this season.

The Husker centerfielder had a batting average of .383, was first in runs scored, hits, home runs and runs batted in.

Bob Reynolds, Grand Island, nailed down the number two spot with a .360 average. He collected 22 hits in 61 trips to the plate.

Reynolds led the team in stolen bases with 14.

Lincolmites In TransTourney

Lincoln will be well represented at the Trans-Mississippi golf tourney to be held in Dallas, Texas June 4-10.

Eight of the capital city's top golfers so far have decided to make the event. They are Dick Spangler, Jr., Joe Gifford, Don Pegler, Hal Bower, Bennet Martin, Bill Mowbray, Jerry Hunt and Bob Lau.

Last year the Trans affair was held in Omaha where Jim English of Red Oak, Iowa emerged as winner.

Some changes have been made in the match procedure. Last year the golfers merely entered to play match games. This year, one must qualify to be able to compete. The first 64 qualifiers are put in the championship flight.

Williams Loses World Title

Little-Known James Carter TKO's Lightweight Champ

By JACK HAND

NEW YORK — (AP) — James Carter, virtually unknown New York Negro who had lost two of three 1951 fights, wrenched the world lightweight title from Ike Williams Friday night with a stunning technical knockout victory in 2-49 of the 14th round at Madison Square Garden.

Williams, holder of at least part of the crown since 1945, underwent a tortuous 90-minute or- New York state athletic commission Friday afternoon making the 135 pounds class limit. Carter weighed 133.

The new champ, born in Aiken, S. C., 27 years ago, but raised in the teeming Bronx, dropped the old champ four times before Rafael Petey Scalzo stopped it to save groggy Ike from serious injury.

Because Carter was ranked 12th among the contenders in its latest ratings, the National Boxing Association refused to sanction this as a title bout. But the old champ four times before Rafael Petey Scalzo stopped it to save groggy Ike from serious injury.

Ex-Husker Grid Star 'Choppy' Rhodes Dies

(Special To The Star)

S PALDING, Neb. — John "Choppy" Rhodes, 48, a former University of Nebraska gridiron great in 1923 and 1924, died of a heart ailment late Thursday night at his home here.

Rhodes, who had been operating an auto agency in recent years, became almost legendary in Husker football history for his dashing speed and efficiency on the field. He later broke into print as a football coach.

Rhodes first acquired fame as a trackman at Ansley, Neb., high school where he set several state records, some of which are still good.

Following his brilliant record at Nebraska, Choppy was inactive in sports for some time, but in 1933 he became coach at Wyoming university, which then had a winning team. He stayed there but a short time and in 1938 he took a position as coach at Blair, high school.

Rhodes was credited with reviving football at Blair. He also coached for the professional St. Louis Gunners.

Survivors include his wife, Marge, and two children, John Rhodes, Jr., and Joan Rhodes, both students at the University of Nebraska.

'CHOPPY' RHODES—His gridiron feats at the University of Nebraska a quarter-century ago made him a near-legend.

Wounded Ex-GI Wins His Fight

SCOTT AIR FORCE BASE, Ill. —(INS)—One of the civilian employees at Scott air force base today is Nolan R. Schlesinger—a medically-discharged soldier who never gave up fighting.

A German bullet wound in World war II left him with a metal plate in his head and permanent paralysis on his left side. Doctors told him he'd never again be able to enjoy swimming, his favorite sport.

But Schlesinger, a former paratrooper, didn't need a gun to fight. He got a 90-day leave from his hospital and went to Fine Lake, Mich., where he concentrated on one thing: Learning how to swim again.

Day after day he worked at it. Gradually, he found that the exercise gave him partial relief in his shoulder. But more important—he swam.

Schlesinger may never again regain the power he once had as a marathon swimmer but the soldiers at Scott salute him for his courage nevertheless.
